LAURA BRINGS A NEW/FRESH TWIST TO MIDLANDS LAW FIRM

Dudley based law firm WH Law LLP has strengthened its specialist employment and health and safety practice with the new appointment of solicitor Laura Twist. The former Director of the Birmingham Trainee Solicitors Society has recently joined the team at WH Law LLP and is already impressing the bosses.

Partner Sarah Pugh explained:

“Laura is very capable and has impressed us with the way she has hit the ground running. At a time when WH Law is expanding its employment and litigation departments, her arrival is excellent news particularly because she has a wealth of experience in both employment law and health and safety legislation. She will be an asset to the team.

“We looked at a number of high-quality candidates but Laura’s commitment to the Company’s core values of teamwork, openness, honesty, and diligence shone through.”

The 26-year-old Liverpool University law graduate trained and qualified as a solicitor at a leading Birmingham law firm. Away from work Laura enjoys skiing and blading. She has travelled extensively, including a six-week trek across America and a hot air balloon trip across Egypt.

Commenting on her appointment, Laura said:

“WH Law’s reputation is based not only on excellent client relationships but also on the way they develop staff, both as individuals and as part of a team. This is an excellent move for me because I will be working in a supportive environment where I can add to the breadth and depth of the firm’s excellent legal knowledge and expertise. I am delighted to be a part of the team.”
