BLACK COUNTRY LEGAL EAGLES ACHIEVE LEGAL 500 SUCCESS

Black Country law firm WH Law LLP has been recommended in the latest edition of the prestigious Legal 500 - which reviews the practices of the UK's leading law firms – for its work in the fields of employment and health and safety law.

Welcoming the news, Partner Mike Rogers said:

“This is a major achievement for us. We are a relatively young and small company. The Legal 500 is recognised world wide as the most comprehensive reference tool for those looking for legal services. To be listed alongside some nationally known names is a great endorsement of what we are trying to achieve and also of the hard work put in by our teams in a short period of time.”

WH Law's appearance in the Legal 500 follows months of rigorous scrutiny of their work by an award winning team of legal researchers.

“The benchmark to get into the Legal 500 is high,” said Mr Rogers. “We have to submit details of numerous cases we have worked on in the last six months. These are then analysed by the team at Legal 500.

“In addition, our clients are quizzed about how they feel we have performed for them. I am delighted that WH Law has received recognition for its commitment to excellence through our level of expertise and quality client service.”

Editor of the Legal 500, David Kelly said:

“Getting into the Legal 500 is a major achievement for any law firm. It is without doubt now the largest and most in-depth survey of the UK legal market. We analyse the practices of more than 1,000 law firms, and more than 220 sets of barristers' chambers and Scottish stables.

“Ultimately it is the clients' opinion that matters. The 45,000 or so references we have taken up this year are a vital component of our evaluation of the various legal markets covered in. WH Law should be proud of what they have achieved.”
